

CHILD AND VULNERABLE ADULT PROTECTION POLICY

1 Introduction

- 1.1. Children and vulnerable adults may be served by work supported by Thrive Scotland (Thrive). Everyone whom Thrive seeks to support must be protected from harm and benefit from these programmes in a safe and healthy environment. Thrive is committed to the rights of the child in the United Nations Convention on the Rights of the Child (UNCRC) and recognises its responsibility to ensure that those rights are upheld. Thrive does not tolerate any violation or infringement of those rights and strives to ensure that the needs, dignity and safety of all children, regardless of sex, ethnicity, faith, ability or culture, are protected in Thrive work.
- 1.2. This Policy is for use by Thrive staff, board and volunteers wherever they represent Thrive. It is a guide for them, for partners' staff, directors and volunteers, and a reference for potential partners, clients and the public. It aims to protect from harm children, vulnerable adults, Thrive staff, directors and volunteers, and Thrive itself.
- 1.3. All children, defined in the UNCRC as anyone under 18 years old, must be protected from abuse and exploitation. A vulnerable adult is afforded the same protection as a child. A vulnerable adult is someone aged 18 or over with a condition of the following type:
 - learning or physical disability, physical or mental illness, including addiction,
 - poverty, low status due to social norms such as discrimination on grounds of sex.
- 1.4. This policy is accompanied by procedures guided by principles. It is reviewed annually and its procedures and implementation are regularly monitored. A report on incidents relating to it is made to the Board of Directors within a month of the incident. This policy is approved by Thrive's Board of Directors. Concordance with it is mandatory for all Thrive staff, directors and volunteers and for staff, directors and volunteers of Thrive's partner organisations, each of which must declare in writing that it implements a policy of similar or greater rigour.

2. Principles

- 2.1. All children and vulnerable adults have equal rights to development and wellbeing.
- 2.2. Children and vulnerable adults are protected from any form of sexual, physical, verbal or emotional abuse or exploitation, from anyone.

- 2.4. Children and vulnerable adults are empowered to participate freely in decisions which affect their lives, recognising the importance of their families and other carers.
- 2.5. Children and vulnerable adults are treated respectfully and valued as equal to others.
- 2.6. Children and vulnerable adults are helped to discuss concerns, and relevant authorities listen.
- 2.7. Any allegation of abuse is treated seriously and dealt with appropriately and promptly. Victims and involved parties are supported and perpetrators are held to account.
- 2.8. Investigation of any Child and Vulnerable Adult Protection concern is conducted with reference to national law and immediately referred to relevant authorities where appropriate.
- 2.9. Staff, Directors and volunteers are recruited, supported and annually trained in the Child and Vulnerable Adults Protection Policy.

4. Child and Vulnerable Adult Protection Procedures

- 4.1. Definition of abuse – the Scottish Government's National Guidance for Child and Vulnerable Adult Protection in Scotland:
- 4.2. Abuse and neglect are forms of maltreatment of a child. Somebody may abuse or neglect a child by inflicting, or by failing to act to prevent, significant harm on the child. Children may be abused in a family or in an institutional setting, by those known to them or, more rarely, by a stranger. The following definitions indicate how the abuse can be experienced by a child but are not exhaustive, as the individual circumstances of abuse vary from child to child. The same principles apply in relation to the protection of vulnerable adults.

Physical Abuse	Physical abuse may involve hitting, shaking, throwing, poisoning, burning or scalding, drowning, suffocating, or otherwise causing physical harm to a child or vulnerable adult. Physical harm may also be caused when a parent or carer feigns the symptoms of, or deliberately causes, ill health to a child whom they are looking after. This situation may be described as fabricated or induced illness by the carer.
Emotional Abuse	Emotional abuse is where persistent emotional ill treatment of a child or vulnerable adult causes severe and persistent adverse effects on their emotional development. It may involve conveying to a child or vulnerable adult that they are worthless or unloved, inadequate or valued only in so far as they meet the needs of another person. It may feature age or developmentally inappropriate expectations being imposed on children or vulnerable adults. It may involve causing children or vulnerable adults to feel frightened or in danger, or the exploitation or corruption of children or vulnerable adults. Some level of emotional abuse is present in all types of ill treatment of a child or vulnerable adult, though it may occur independently of the other forms of abuse.

Sexual Abuse	Sexual abuse involves forcing or enticing a child or vulnerable adult to take part in sexual activities, whether or not they are aware of what is happening. The activities may involve physical contact, including penetrative or non-penetrative acts. They may include non-contact activities, such as involving children or vulnerable adults in looking at, or in the production of, pornographic material or in watching sexual activities, using sexual language towards a child or vulnerable adult or encouraging children or vulnerable adults to behave in sexually inappropriate ways.
Neglect	Neglect is the persistent failure to meet the basic physical and/or psychological needs of a child or vulnerable adult, likely to result in the serious impairment of their health or development. It may involve a parent or carer failing to provide adequate food, shelter and clothing, to protect a child or vulnerable adult from physical harm or danger, or to ensure access to appropriate medical care or treatment. It may also include neglect of, or unresponsiveness to, a child or vulnerable adult's basic emotional needs. Neglect may also result in a child being diagnosed as suffering from non-organic failure to thrive, where a child has significantly failed to reach normal growth and developmental milestones and where physical and genetic reasons have been medically eliminated." ¹

5. Awareness-Raising

- 5.1. Thrive's Child and Vulnerable Adult Protection Policy is available to the general public and all Thrive staff, directors and volunteers, and to partners' staff, directors, volunteers and clients.
- 5.2. All Thrive staff, volunteers and Directors must participate in training on this policy and be updated on child and vulnerable adult protection issues by the Child and Vulnerable Adult Protection Committee, which is the Thrive Board, led by the Child and Vulnerable Adult Protection Officer, who is the Thrive M&E Director.
- 5.3. All Thrive managers are responsible for ensuring that their staff have participated in training on child and vulnerable adult protection and understand this policy and its implications.
- 5.4. All Thrive staff, directors and volunteers in posts with regular contact with children and vulnerable adults must attend specialised training on child and vulnerable adult protection.
- 5.5. All staff, directors and volunteers must follow the Thrive Child and Vulnerable Adult Protection Code of Conduct and have signed a copy of it, which is kept on file.
- 5.6. Thrive engages with overseas partners on child and vulnerable adult protection, explaining commitments and requiring partners to declare in writing that they implement child and vulnerable adult protection policies and procedures relevant to their context and compatible with the United Nations Convention on the Rights of the Child.
- 5.7. Child and vulnerable adult protection is always considered for any Thrive event or visit.

6. Prevention Measures

Staff, Directors and Volunteer Recruitment

- 6.1. Thrive employment practices comply with the law and Keeping Children Safe standards.
- 6.2. Recruitment for posts with regular contact with children and vulnerable adults must:
 - State these are disclosure-accepted posts for the Rehabilitation of Offenders Act 1974,

- Refer to this Protection Policy in adverts and job descriptions,
 - Ask candidates their previous experience of working with children or vulnerable adults,
 - Require two referees to comment on their work with children or vulnerable adults,
 - Ensure that appointed candidates complete the appropriate disclosure process below,
 - Ensure that the identity of candidates appointed to identified posts is verified.
- 6.3. Job offers for posts with regular contact with children and vulnerable adults are subject to Disclosure, including Self-Disclosure in the application process and, where required, Enhanced Disclosure or local checks through relevant government agencies where possible. Satisfactory verification of qualifications and work history is also required.
- 6.4. Any staff, directors or volunteers recruited or designated for work with children or vulnerable adults must complete a Self-Disclosure form, provide two suitable referees and, where required, complete an Enhanced Disclosure or checks through relevant government bodies.
- 6.5. Any staff, directors or volunteers unwilling to complete the Disclosure Process are not deployed in any position allowing them access to children and vulnerable adults.

Children and vulnerable adults working as Volunteers

- 6.6. Any child or vulnerable adult volunteering for Thrive is supervised by their legal guardian or responsible adult nominated by their legal guardian. Each adult supervises maximum 6.
- 6.7. Thrive staff or volunteers working with groups of children ensure that school or group leaders have permission from parents or guardians. Responsibility remains with the school or group.
- 6.8. Thrive supervisors ensure that children volunteering as individuals have completed a Child Volunteer Permission Form on every occasion, unless the volunteer works with Thrive more than once a month, in which case the Form is kept on file and renewed annually.

Communications and Media

- 6.9. Thrive ensures that the welfare of children and vulnerable adults is paramount and their interests and safety always take priority over any editorial requirement.
- 6.10. The impact and possible consequences of any material involving a child or vulnerable adult is carefully considered, before and after publication or broadcast.
- 6.11. Thrive aims to ensure that images or stories of a child or vulnerable adult cannot be misused.
- 6.12. Communications about children and vulnerable adults respect the individual's dignity and identity and are not degrading. Thrive tries to ensure realistic and respectful portrayal.
- 6.13. All materials in Thrive publications and website are suitable for children.
- 6.14. Thrive staff and volunteers always:
- seek written consent of parent, guardian, person in loco parentis or the vulnerable adult before interviewing, photographing or recording a child or vulnerable adult,
 - seek consent of parent, guardian, person in loco parentis or the vulnerable adult, before publishing any materials in which the child and vulnerable adult appears,
 - seek a child's or vulnerable adult's consent to participation and respect any refusal,
 - do not give any financial inducement to the child, vulnerable adult or parent/guardian,
 - obtain permission from the headteacher for filming or interviewing on school premises,
 - approach data-gathering sensitively, considering the impact of retelling experiences,
 - minimise any distress that may be caused by taking part in an interview,
 - arrange extra protection for those needing it (e.g. refugees or the sick),
 - conceal the identity and location of children and vulnerable adults, withholding or changing names, if revealing identity may lead to any risk or distress,
 - in group shots from a distance, hide a child's or vulnerable adults' identity and location,

- use images in which a child or adult is clothed by common standards of UK viewers,
- Ensure messages about children and vulnerable adults are fair, with no discrimination.

6.15. Where there is any doubt on the use of images and/or stories, Thrive staff and volunteers seek the guidance of their Child and Vulnerable Adult Protection Officer.

Thrive Partners

6.16. Thrive project agreements specify that all partners must have child and vulnerable adult protection measures in place and must produce and implement their own child and vulnerable protection policy. Partners must abide by the Thrive Policy and Code of Conduct.

7. Reporting

- 7.1. Thrive people must ensure that the Thrive code of conduct is adhered to throughout Thrive.
- 7.2. A Child and Vulnerable Adult Protection Concern Report form is available to all Thrive people.
- 7.3. Thrive staff and volunteers must respond sensitively to any Child and Vulnerable Adult Protection problem that they witness or is disclosed to them and treat the issue confidentially. If a child or vulnerable adult discloses that they are being abused, staff and volunteers should:
- stay calm, listen carefully, take the allegation seriously, only ask questions for clarity,
 - not promise to keep it secret but explain that they need to tell someone else,
 - stress that the person was right to tell them, they take it seriously and they understand,
 - reassure that they will help and tell them what will happen next.
- 7.4. The disclosure of a serious allegation will not affect anyone's position or reputation in Thrive.
- 7.5. Any Thrive staff member who witnesses or is informed of a potential breach of the Child and Vulnerable Adult Protection Code of Conduct must complete the Report Form and tell the Directors or Child and Vulnerable Adult Protection Officer of the concern as soon as possible.
- 7.6. Any volunteer who witnesses or is informed of a potential breach of the Child and Vulnerable Adult Protection Code of Conduct must complete the Report Form and inform their designated Thrive supervisor of the concern as soon as possible.
- 7.7. Thrive managers or supervisors must inform the Child and Vulnerable Adult Protection Officer of any allegation or concern immediately. If this is not possible, staff must ensure that the matter is referred to an appropriate senior member of staff or Director.
- 7.8. The Child and Vulnerable Adult Protection Officer is responsible for managing the investigation of any concern. Staff and volunteers should not conduct their own investigation or discuss the issue with any other parties such as other members of staff or volunteers.
- 7.9. The Child and Vulnerable Adult Protection Officer is responsible for ensuring that all records of a breach of the code of conduct are full, detailed, treated confidentially and stored securely.

Thrive Partners

- 7.10. Partners must inform Thrive of any child and vulnerable adult protection concern in Thrive-associated work as soon as possible.
- 7.11. Any child and vulnerable adult protection concern about Partners must be properly recorded and raised with the relevant Child and Vulnerable Adult Protection Officer, senior staff and Director, who will manage the response.

8. Responding to Concerns

- 8.1. The Child and Vulnerable Adult Protection Officer (CVAPO) is responsible for ensuring a thorough investigation of any concern, either by the CVAPO or by an appropriate Director or member of staff, as soon as possible if there has been a suspected or alleged breach of the Code of Conduct by a member of staff or a volunteer. The CVAPO should always refer any reported concern to the Board of Directors.

- 8.2. In some instances it may be necessary for the CVAPO to ensure that the concern is immediately referred to relevant authorities (Police or Child Welfare Authority). In this case the CVAPO should refer any reported concern to the Board of Directors.
- 8.3. It may be necessary for a member of staff to be suspended while an investigation takes place. Any suspension will be as brief as possible.
- 8.4. It may be necessary for a volunteer to be suspended whilst an investigation takes place.
- 8.5. Thrive aims to ensure that any child, vulnerable adult or other party affected by any breach of the code of conduct is given immediate and appropriate support and care.
- 8.6. Thrive will try to ensure that any member of Thrive staff or volunteer suspended while an investigation takes place is given appropriate support. Suspension during investigation is not disciplinary action and does not imply guilt, and if no breach has taken place, records of any investigation will be destroyed within one year of the investigation.
- 8.7. The CVAPO will ensure that a full investigation report is produced, reviewed by the Board of Directors. Any investigation will be conducted according to national law, and if any concern could constitute a criminal act, details will be immediately referred to relevant authorities.
- 8.8. Following full investigation, Thrive may implement disciplinary action with staff. Staff may respond as appropriate, in accordance with their employment conditions.
- 8.9. Where a concern relates to a volunteer, Thrive may end the volunteer relationship.

Thrive Partners

- 8.10. Partners should report the outcome of any internal investigation regarding a Child and Vulnerable Adult Protection concern to Thrive as soon as possible. Thrive expects partners to take appropriate action in relation to any concern and report this to Thrive. If Thrive judges that insufficient actions have been taken, Thrive may end a partner relationship.

9. Appendix 1: COMMUNICATION POLICY

1. Introduction

Thrive is committed to the protection of children and vulnerable adults.

2. Use of images and Stories

- Thrive's communications on children and vulnerable adults respect their dignity:
 - Portray children and vulnerable adults realistically, without being sensational or overly positive or portraying them as victims;
 - Show different types of children and vulnerable adults give their perspectives;
 - Be aware that some children and vulnerable adults need extra protection;
 - Inform children, vulnerable adults and guardians of risks of sharing their story;
 - Ensure that participants see how their story is used in Thrive materials.

3. Consent

Thrive must acquire written consent from the child or vulnerable adult plus parent or whoever is acting in loco parentis to use images and stories.

No payment or reward shall be given to gain consent. No payment may be made to minors for information on the welfare of children or vulnerable adults, or to parents, guardians or carers for information about their children or wards. It must be made clear to all that support from Thrive work does not oblige anyone to participate in communications, and support will not be withdrawn if they do not participate.

Thrive may decide not to publish a story if it may damage the child's interest.

4. Confidentiality

Thrive strives to protect the identity of children and vulnerable adults in order:

1. To avoid exploitation of images and stories by those who may wish to misuse them; and
 2. To protect children and vulnerable adults from stigma or mistreatment in their communities.
- Therefore, Thrive will not use the name of a child or vulnerable adult in external communications or reports to donors.

- Sexual abuse, domestic violence, court cases, child labour, living with HIV/AIDS,
- Fostered children, anyone prostituted for sex,
- Other economic or political factors threatening the safety of a child or vulnerable adult.

Children's and vulnerable adults' identities will be protected with a pseudonym, with the footnote "Names have been changed to protect identities." The name change must be noted for future use of the same story and photographs.

Exception:

Family and school names may be used for transparency to illustrate non-sensitive stories.

5. Interviewing Children and Vulnerable Adults

All interviews with children and vulnerable adults must be conducted with extra care, sensitive to the welfare and safety of the individual. Cultural values and interests must be honoured and child-friendly language used. Information must be shared with interviewees transparently. Children and vulnerable adults should not be interrogated about private family matters nor asked their opinion on matters likely to be beyond their judgement.

The Thrive Child And Vulnerable Adult Protection Policy shall be adhered to at all times when interviewing, photographing, filming or recording a child or vulnerable adult.
